Biggest Lie Ever Told! And Believed by a School System!!! Crest High School female teacher claims “flashing” class full of kids with a nudie picture was an accident.!!! Her phone did it all by itself!!! Teacher Back at work and in good standing!!! Parents, Send Your Children to the nearest Charter School!!! Last article about this by Robert A. Williams

Perhaps I should submit this whole episode to the Guinness Book of World Records under the category of the “Biggest Lie Ever Told, and Believed by a School System!!”

Folks, I will not waste any more time with this report of the female teacher at Crest Middle School who “flashed” her whole class with a pornographic picture of a nude man. Except for her latest reported version of what happened. You can scroll on back for previous articles about this and believe what you want. I will be done with this episode just as soon as I post this last excuse. Parents of students at Crest High School, YOU are on your own. Send your children to Crest High School at your own risk! My recommendation is to sign up your child to Pinnacle Classical Academy or the Charter School nearest your home.

This is the latest excuse as reported to me:
The female teacher and her husband decided to go on a diet and lose some weight. So, the Husband took a NUDE picture of his wife on HIS phone and the wife (the female teacher at Crest High School) took a NUDE picture of her husband on HER phone, for some future comparisons. Then, the wife, the female teacher at Crest High School, takes her phone to school (Crest High School) and HER phone ACCIDENTLY connects by Bluetooth with the school systems electronic virtual learning equipment and displays the husband's NUDE picture to the whole classroom full of kids.

For my part, I have to believe it must have also been an "accident" that the teacher's phone nudie picture was not broadcast to ever student and teacher at Crest High School. And every phone between school and home.

Anyway, Parents of Crest High School (and all CCS Schools) students, it is all up to you now. I am not trying to blame CCS Superintendent Stephen Fisher, Crest High School Principal Jeremy Shields or even School Board Chairman Robert "Luke" Queen for hiring and keeping a teacher who goes around taking nudie pictures of anybody and is foolish enough to carry them around on her phone. Which certainly was NO ACCIDENT.

As for me, I am done with this episode. If this is acceptable behavior and OK for YOU parents, it is OK by me.

Goodbye!
